

Paula Bokoch. Paula works with teams and the next generation of leaders to help them understand the impact of today's choices on tomorrow's opportunities.

An up and coming facilitator, trainer and coach, she has worked for two years with major universities and colleges, food service, manufacturing and government.

Originally from all over the United States including Michigan, Paula completed an internship in marketing on Capitol Hill in 2007 and co-facilitated a youth media conference for the Kellogg Foundation. She has a bachelor's degree in economics and management from Albion College.

Paula joined Humanergy in 2007. In her free time, she coaches elementary girls' basketball, runs with her pooch Kiera and recently completed the Chicago marathon.

213 West Mansion
Street
Marshall, MI 49068

269.789.0446
269.789.0057 Fax

www.humanergy.com